FOREWORD

The Office of Institutional Research, Planning & Assessment is pleased to present the Boston College Fact Book, 2017-2018, the 45th edition of this publication.

This book is intended as a single, readily accessible, consistent source of information about the Boston College community, its resources, and its operations. It is a summary of institutional data gathered from many areas of the University, compiled to capture the 2016-2017 Fiscal and Academic Year, and the fall semester of the 2017-2018 Academic Year. Where appropriate, multiple years of data are provided for historical perspective. While not all-encompassing, the Fact Book does provide pertinent facts and figures valuable to administrators, faculty, staff, and students.

Sincere appreciation is extended to all contributors who offered their time and expertise to maintain the greatest possible accuracy and standardization of the data. Special thanks go to graduate student Kaitlyn Tuthill for her extensive contribution. A concerted effort is made to make this publication an increasingly more useful reference, at the same time enhancing your understanding of the scope and progress of the University. We welcome your comments and suggestions toward these goals.

This Fact Book, as well as those from previous years, is available in its entirety at www.bc.edu/factbook.

THE MISSION OF BOSTON COLLEGE

Strengthened by more than a century and a half of dedication to academic excellence, Boston College commits itself to the highest standards of teaching and research in undergraduate, graduate and professional programs and to the pursuit of a just society through its own accomplishments, the work of its faculty and staff, and the achievements of its graduates. It seeks both to advance its place among the nation's finest universities and to bring to the company of its distinguished peers and to contemporary society the richness of the Catholic intellectual ideal of a mutually illuminating relationship between religious faith and free intellectual inquiry.

Boston College draws inspiration for its academic and societal mission from its distinctive religious tradition. As a Catholic and Jesuit university, it is rooted in a world view that encounters God in all creation and through all human activity, especially in the search for truth in every discipline, in the desire to learn, and in the call to live justly together. In this spirit, the University regards the contribution of different religious traditions and value systems as essential to the fullness of its intellectual life and to the continuous development of its distinctive intellectual heritage.

Boston College pursues this distinctive mission by serving society in three ways:

- by fostering the rigorous intellectual development and the religious, ethical, and personal formation of its undergraduate, graduate, and professional students in order to prepare them for citizenship, service and leadership in a global society;
- by producing nationally and internationally significant research that advances insight and understanding, thereby both enriching culture and addressing important societal needs; and
- by committing itself to advance the dialogue between religious belief and other formative elements of culture through the intellectual inquiry, teaching and learning, and the community life that form the University.

Boston College fulfills this mission with a deep concern for all members of its community, with a recognition of the important contribution a diverse student body, faculty and staff can offer, with a firm commitment to academic freedom, and with a determination to exercise careful stewardship of its resources in pursuit of its academic goals.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF BOSTON COLLEGE

Founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863 to serve the sons of Boston's Catholic immigrants, Boston College was the first institution of higher learning chartered in the City of Boston. On September 5, 1864 Boston College opened its doors to 22 students, providing a liberal arts curriculum with an emphasis on Greek and Latin classics, English, rhetoric, mathematics, philosophy, physics, chemistry, and religion, based on the Ratio studiorum (Plan of Studies) that had guided Jesuit schools throughout the world since 1599.

Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, Boston College outgrew its urban setting early in the 20th century. President Thomas I. Gasson, S.J., selected a new location in Chestnut Hill and in 1907 purchased four parcels of land known as the Lawrence Farm. The firm of Maginnis and Walsh won a design competition for the development of the new campus, and Boston College broke ground on June 19, 1909, for construction of a central Recitation Building, which would later be named Gasson Hall.

The Recitation Building opened in March 1913. The three other buildings that still shape the core of the campus—St. Mary's Hall, Devlin Hall, and Bapst Library—opened in 1917, 1924, and 1928, respectively.

Though founded as a university, Boston College did not fill out the dimensions of its charter until the 1920s. It established a Summer Session in 1924, followed by the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School and Evening College in 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work (now the School of Social Work) in 1936; and the College of Business Administration in 1938. The latter, along with its graduate school established in 1957, is now known as the Wallace E. Carroll School of Management. The schools of Nursing and Education, founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively, are now named as the William F. Connell School of Nursing and the Carolyn A. and Peter S. Lynch School of Education.

The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences began doctoral programs in 1952. Today, doctoral degrees are offered by 13 Arts and Sciences departments. The schools of Education, Nursing, Management, Social Work, and Theology and Ministry also offer doctoral programs.

While Boston College conferred one bachelor's degree and 15 master's degrees on women in 1927 through its Extension Division, the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, it was not until 1970 that all of Boston College's undergraduate programs became coeducational. Today, female students comprise more than half of the University's enrollment.

In 1974, Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, located a mile-and-a-half from the Chestnut Hill Campus. With 15 buildings on 40 acres, the Newton Campus is now the site of the Boston College Law School, undergraduate residence halls housing 800 freshmen, and athletic facilities.

In 1996, the Evening College became the College of Advancing Studies, offering bachelor's and master's degrees; in 2002, it was renamed the Woods College of Advancing Studies in honor of its long-serving dean, James A. Woods, S.J. In July 1996, the University's longest presidency came to an end after 24 years when J. Donald Monan, S.J., became chancellor, and William P. Leahy, S.J., was named Boston College's 25th president.

During the decade of the nineties, the University completed several major construction projects, including the expansion and renovation of the main science building (Higgins Hall), its Management building (Fulton Hall), student residences, and athletic facilities.

Between 2004 and 2007, Boston College acquired 65 acres of land across Commonwealth Avenue from the Archdiocese of Boston, on what is now called the Brighton Campus. In November 2004, Boston College purchased St. Stephen's Priory in Dover, Mass., encompassing 78.5 acres of land that is now used for conference and retreat space. On December 5, 2007, Boston College unveiled a 10-year strategic plan, which called for the addition of 100 new faculty, a student center, a recreation complex, a fine arts district, playing fields for baseball, softball and intramurals, and 1,200 new beds to meet 100% of undergraduate housing demand.

During the economic crisis that began in 2008, Boston College continued its longer range planning, launching the $1.5-billion Light the World campaign, making significant investments in mission-related areas, e.g., faculty, academics, and the expansion of University Mission and Ministry.

In June 2008, the Weston Jesuit School of Theology re-affiliated with Boston College and joined the Institute of Religious Education and Pastoral Ministry and C21 Online to form the Boston College School of Theology and Ministry.

From 2012 to 2013, Boston College celebrated the 150th anniversary of its founding. The Sesquicentennial celebration opened with a Mass at Boston's Fenway Park, and included six academic symposia, a student concert and reception at Boston's Symphony Hall, an on-campus naturalization ceremony for immigrants and their families, and a seven-city "150 on the Road" alumni volunteer effort, in which 1,823 alumni, parents, and friends packed 451,077 meals for shipment to needy families in West Africa.

Stokes Hall, a 183,000 square-foot building designed to foster interdisciplinary collaboration among the humanities departments and enhance student-faculty interaction, opened in 2013. The Institute for Advanced Jesuit Studies was launched in 2014.

In 2015, the Morrissey College of Arts & Sciences was named in honor of alumnus, longstanding trustee, and benefactor Robert J. Morrissey '60.

In 2016, the McMullen Museum of Art was moved from the Chestnut Hill Campus to the former cardinal's residence on Commonwealth Avenue. In the summer of that same year, 2000 Commonwealth Ave., an apartment building purchased by Boston College in 2008, became a residence for 540 undergraduate students, and a new residence hall, Thomas More Apartments, opened at 2150 Commonwealth Avenue with 490 beds.

Also in 2016, Boston College was elevated to an R1 institution by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education, a designation for doctoral universities with the highest levels of research activity. The University also raised more than $1.6 billion in its Light the World campaign, the most successful capital campaign in its history.

In 2017, University President William P. Leahy, S.J., announced Ever to Excel: Advancing Boston College's Mission, a strategic plan to guide the University in the coming decade.

Boston College commenced its 150th anniversary celebration with a Sesquicentennial Mass at Fenway Park on September 15. Stayer Hall was named and dedicated in honor of University Trustee Ralph Stayer, his wife Shelly, and their family.
- 2013 Boston College continued its celebration of its 150th anniversary with academic symposia, a performance of student musical groups at Boston’s Symphony Hall and a seven-city alumni and parent volunteer effort that packed 451,077 meals for shipment to West Africa. Stokes Hall, designed to foster interdisciplinary collaboration among the humanities departments and enhance student-faculty interaction, officially opened. It was made possible by a gift from University Trustee Patrick Stokes ’64 and his wife, Aja. Professor of History Robin Fleming was awarded a prestigious MacArthur Fellowship (“genius grant”), a first for a BC faculty member.
- 2014 Construction began on a 490-bed residence hall at 2150 Commonwealth Avenue, the site of the former More Hall. New endowed assistant professorships were established, part of an initiative to support junior faculty research and early-career development. The Institute for Advanced Jesuit Studies was launched.
- 2015 The Morrissey College of Arts & Sciences was named in honor of alumnus, long-serving trustee, and generous benefactor Robert. J. Morrissey ’60.
- 2016 Boston College was elevated to an R1 institution by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education, a designation for doctoral universities with the highest levels of research activity. Athletics announced plans for three projects: a recreational center, playing fields, and an athletics field house. The University initiated its 10-year NEASC accreditation and a new strategic planning effort. The Light the World campaign closed, the most successful capital campaign in BC history. A new residence hall opened at the former site of More Hall; the McMullen Museum of Art reopened at its new location on BC’s Brighton Campus.
- 2017 The University mourned the passing on March 18 of BC’s 24th President and first Chancellor, J. Donald Monan, S.J. Construction started on three major athletics facilities: a new recreation center on the former site of Edmond’s Hall; baseball, softball and intramural fields on the Brighton Campus; and an athletics field house on Shea Field. In September, University President William P. Leahy, S.J., announced Ever to Excel: Advancing Boston College’s Mission, a strategic plan to guide the University in the coming decade.

THE JESUIT COMMUNITY AT BOSTON COLLEGE

With 50 members, the Jesuit Community at Boston College is one of the larger apostolic communities of the Society of Jesus throughout the world. Thirty-six Jesuit priests serve in the University as either full-time or part-time members of the administration, faculty, and staff. Many of them also offer Ignatian retreats and spiritual direction to faculty, staff, and students and also provide regular assistance to the diocesan church, both locally and nationally. Other Jesuits in residence include eleven from ten countries around the world who are studying for graduate degrees at the University or at other institutions in the Boston area, four who are involved in ministries beyond the University, two who act as the Rector and Administrator of the Jesuit Community itself, two who are retired professors and six on sabbatical.

St. Mary's Hall is the primary residence of the Jesuit Community, although some Jesuits live in seven smaller residences around the perimeter of the campus. Three Jesuits live in student residence halls. And the Jesuits who staff St. Ignatius Church are members of the Jesuit Community at Boston College. For further details, see the Jesuit Community Web page at <http://www.bc.edu/content/bc/sites/jesuit.html>.

THE SAINT PETER FABER JESUIT COMMUNITY AT BOSTON COLLEGE

With 72 members, the Saint Peter Faber Jesuit Community (FJC) is an international group of Jesuits whose main apostolate is theological reflection, scholarship, and research. FJC includes Priests, Scholastics, and Brothers who come to study and teach Theology, and to prepare for ministry. The Community is located on Foster Street, adjacent to the Boston College Brighton campus.

Together with the ecclesiastical faculty within the Boston College School of Theology and Ministry (BCSTM), FJC forms an Assistancy Apostolate that is accountable to the Jesuit Conference Board. The Major Superior is the President of the Jesuit Conference.

Note: The Higher Education Opportunities Act of 2008 resulted in changes to the manner in which race/ethnicity data are collected and reported. For this reason, three views are displayed in order to reflect the variety of ways in which race/ethnicity data may be presented.

Table 1: This table presents a headcount view of race/ethnicity data for students who select a single category; students who select more than one race/ethnicity appear in the "Two or More" category.
