FOREWORD

The Office of Institutional Research is pleased to present the Boston College Fact Book, 2013-2014, the 41st edition of this publication.

This book is intended as a single, readily accessible, consistent source of information about the Boston College community, its resources, and its operations. It is a summary of institutional data gathered from many areas of the University, compiled to capture the 2012-2013 Fiscal and Academic Year, and the fall semester of the 2013-2014 Academic Year. Where appropriate, multiple years of data are provided for historical perspective. While not all-encompassing, the Fact Book does provide pertinent facts and figures valuable to administrators, faculty, staff, and students.

Sincere appreciation is extended to all contributors who offered their time and expertise to maintain the greatest possible accuracy and standardization of the data. Special thanks go to graduate student Monique Ouimette for her extensive contribution. A concerted effort is made to make this publication an increasingly more useful reference, at the same time enhancing your understanding of the scope and progress of the University. We welcome your comments and suggestions toward these goals.

This Fact Book, as well as those from previous years, is available in its entirety at www.bc.edu/factbook.

THE MISSION OF BOSTON COLLEGE

Strengthened by more than a century and a quarter of dedication to academic excellence, Boston College commits itself to the highest standards of teaching and research in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs and to the pursuit of a just society through its own accomplishments, the work of its faculty and staff, and the achievements of its graduates. It seeks both to advance its place among the nation's finest universities and to bring to the company of its distinguished peers and to contemporary society the richness of the Catholic intellectual ideal of a mutually illuminating relationship between religious faith and free intellectual inquiry.

Boston College draws inspiration for its academic and societal mission from its distinctive religious tradition. As a Catholic and Jesuit university, it is rooted in a world view that encounters God in all creation and through all human activity, especially in the search for truth in every discipline, in the desire to learn, and in the call to live justly together. In this spirit, the University regards the contribution of different religious traditions and value systems as essential to the fullness of its intellectual life and to the continuous development of its distinctive intellectual heritage.

Boston College pursues this distinctive mission by serving society in three ways:

- by fostering the rigorous intellectual development and the religious, ethical, and personal formation of its undergraduate, graduate, and professional students in order to prepare them for citizenship, service, and leadership in a global society;
- by producing nationally and internationally significant research that advances insight and understanding, thereby both enriching culture and addressing important societal needs; and
- by committing itself to advance the dialogue between religious belief and other formative elements of culture through the intellectual inquiry, teaching and learning, and the community life that form the University.

Boston College fulfills this mission with a deep concern for all members of its community, with a recognition of the important contribution a diverse student body, faculty, and staff can offer, with a firm commitment to academic freedom, and with a determination to exercise careful stewardship of its resources in pursuit of its academic goals.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF BOSTON COLLEGE

Founded by the Society of Jesus in 1863 to serve the sons of Boston's Catholic immigrants, Boston College was the first institution of higher learning chartered in the City of Boston. On September 5, 1864 Boston College opened its doors to 22 students, providing a liberal arts curriculum—with an emphasis on Greek and Latin classics, English, rhetoric, mathematics, philosophy and religion—based on the Ratio Studiorum (Plan of Studies) that had guided Jesuit universities in Europe and the Americas.

Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, Boston College outgrew its urban setting early in the 20th century. Then-president Thomas I. Gasson, S.J., selected a new location in Chestnut Hill and in 1907 purchased four parcels of land known as the Lawrence Farm. The firm of Maginnis and Walsh won a design competition for the development of the new campus, and Boston College broke ground on June 19, 1909 for construction of a central Recitation Building, which would later be named Gasson Hall.

The Recitation Building opened in March 1913. The three other buildings that still shape the core of the campus—St. Mary's Hall, Devlin Hall, and Bapst Library—opened in 1917, 1924, and 1928, respectively.

Though incorporated as a university since its founding, it was not until the 1920s that Boston College began to fill out the dimensions of its charter. It established a Summer Session in 1924; followed by the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences in 1925; the Law School and Evening College in 1929; the Graduate School of Social Work in 1936; and the College of Business Administration in 1938. The latter, along with its Graduate School established in 1957, is now known as the Wallace E. Carroll School of Management. The schools of Nursing and Education, founded in 1947 and 1952, respectively, are now known as the William F. Connell School of Nursing and the Carolyn A. and Peter S. Lynch School of Education.

The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences began programs at the doctoral level in 1952. Now, courses leading to the doctorate are offered by 13 Arts and Sciences departments. The schools of Education and Nursing, the Carroll Graduate School of Management, the Graduate School of Social Work, and the School of Theology and Ministry also offer doctoral programs.

While Boston College conferred one bachelor's degree and 15 master's degrees on women in 1927 through its Extension Division—the precursor of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences—it was not until 1970 that all of Boston College's undergraduate programs became coeducational. Today, female students comprise more than half of the University's enrollment.

In 1974, Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, a mile-and-a-half from the Main Campus. With 15 buildings standing on 40 acres, it is now the site of the Boston College Law School and undergraduate residence halls housing 800 freshmen.

In 1996, the Evening College became the College of Advancing Studies, offering bachelor's and master's degrees; in 2002, the College was renamed the Woods College of Advancing Studies in honor of its long-serving Dean, James A. Woods, S.J. In July 1996, the University's longest presidency came to an end after 24 years when J. Donald Monan, S.J., became chancellor and William P. Leahy, S.J., was named Boston College's 25th president.

During the decade of the nineties, the University completed several major construction projects, including the expansion and renovation of Higgins Hall, and the updating of residence halls on the Upper and Newton campuses.

Between 2004 and 2007, Boston College acquired from the Archdiocese of Boston 65 acres of land across Commonwealth Avenue in what is now called the Brighton Campus. In November 2004, Boston College purchased St. Stephen's Priory in Dover, encompassing 78.5 acres of land that is now used for conference and retreat space. On December 5, 2007, Boston College unveiled its 10-year, $1.6 billion Strategic Plan, which called for the addition of 100 new faculty, a student center, recreation complex, a fine arts district, playing fields for baseball, softball and intramurals, and 1,200 new beds to meet 100 percent of undergraduate housing demand.

In June 2008, the Weston Jesuit School of Theology re-affiliated with Boston College, and joined the Institute of Religious Education and Pastoral Ministry and C21 Online to form the new School of Theology and Ministry. In 2009, the City of Boston approved the University's Institutional Master Plan for the Lower and Brighton campuses.

In 2012, Boston College won its fifth NCAA National Championship in Men's Ice Hockey, while BC student-athletes overall achieved the highest graduation rates among NCAA Division I programs.

As a sign of the University's growing selectivity, between 1996 and 2013, freshmen applications increased from 16,501 to 25,000, and the average SAT scores of entering freshmen rose to 2032. During this same period, the dollar amount of sponsored project awards received by the University more than doubled. Since 1996, the University's endowment has grown from $590 million to $2 billion, the result of effective management and successful fund-raising campaigns.

Between 2012 and 2013, Boston College celebrated the 150th anniversary of its founding. The Sesquicentennial celebration opened with a landmark Mass at Boston's Fenway Park, followed by six academic symposia, a student concert at Boston's Symphony Hall, an on-campus naturalization ceremony, and a seven-city "150 on the Road" alumni volunteer effort, in which 1823 alumni, parents and friends packed 451,077 meals for shipment to needy families in West Africa. The Sesquicentennial concluded in December 2013 with a Mass for the BC community at St. Ignatius Church.

THE JESUIT COMMUNITY AT BOSTON COLLEGE

With 65 members, the Jesuit Community at Boston College is one of the larger communities in the Society of Jesus. Thirty-eight Jesuits serve in the University as members of the administration, faculty, staff working either full-time or part-time. A number of Jesuits in the community also offer Ignatian retreats and spiritual direction to faculty, staff, and students. There are 15 Jesuits from 12 different countries around the world who are studying for graduate degrees at the University or who are here as visiting scholars.

The main community residence is St. Mary's Hall but there are also seven smaller residences around the perimeter of the campus. Three Jesuits live in student residence halls and the Jesuits who staff St. Ignatius Parish are also part of the Boston College Jesuit Community. For further details, see the Jesuit Community Web page at <http://www.bc.edu/content/bc/sites/jesuit.html>.

ENROLLMENT BY RACE/ETHNICITY, GENDER, AND CITIZENSHIP

Undergraduate Day Schools, Fall 2013

Note: The Higher Education Opportunities Act of 2008 resulted in changes to the manner in which race/ethnicity data are collected and reported. For this reason, three views are displayed in order to reflect the variety of ways in which race/ethnicity data may be presented.

Table 1: This table presents a headcount view of race/ethnicity data for students who select a single category; students who select more than one race/ethnicity appear in the "Two or More" category.

Single Race/Ethnicity	Men	Women	Total	Percent

Table 3: This table presents race/ethnicity data for U.S. Citizen or permanent resident students who chose to identify in any category. In that a student may be counted in more than one group, duplication may result and the % sum may be >100%.

Combined Single and Multiple Races/Ethnicity	Men	Women	Total	Percent
American Indian or Alaska Native	25	52	77	1.0%

White	2,946	3,381	6,327	79.1%
